PUI Assignment 6a – High Fidelity Prototype

Design Choices:
As explained in the low-fidelity prototype pdf, I wanted to give a consistent feel to the website, so it looks similar to the cart layout. However, there or some differences in the border, and information provided. The page lets the user know what date they added the item to the wish list. As mentioned in the low fidelity document, it provides the user with an Add To Cart button so they can just go directly to the wish list page without browsing through the order page. This makes it easier for regular customers to have a faster checkout process.
